

WOULD TREAT VILLA TROOPS AS OUTLAWS

Officials Clearly State
Action Will Be Taken If
Forces Cross Border

MAYTORENA IN CHICAGO

Former Governor of State of Sonora Asserts He Will Not Rejoin Villa Army

OTHERS EXPECT TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Should Villa troops cross the border and attack the Mexican town of Agua Prieta from the Texas side as press reports from the scene have indicated they might do, they would be treated as outlaws and in the event of resistance, shot down by United States troops. Officials at the state and war departments made this clear to-night, although no official advice had been received that such developments were in prospect.

Major General Funston, commanding the American border forces, has full authority to take any necessary steps to prevent violation of American territory by Mexican armed parties, short of actually invading Mexico. An order to cross the border would have to come from Washington but if bullets fall on the American side during any battle across the line, General Funston may use his artillery to drive the combatants away.

Situation is Somewhat Changed.

With the recognition of the Carranza regime as the de facto government of Mexico, the border situation is somewhat changed. Should Carranza soldiers be forced to flee into American territory they would be disarmed but permitted to return to Mexico at some other point on the border where their arms would be returned to them. The United States does not recognize that a state of belligerency against the Carranza government exists and there would be no question of internment.

Maytorena in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—General Jose M. Maytorena, late adherent of General Villa and former governor of the Mexican state of Sonora and chief of the conventionalist forces along the Arizona border, was in Chicago today enroute from Washington to the west. The general is accompanied by R. Ramirez, a former political adviser to the Villa party. The Mexicans stopped here to await the arrival of General Felipe Angeles who is on the way from Boston.

"I shall not rejoin the Villa army," General Maytorena said. "Carranza has won. We cannot oppose him successfully in the face of a United States arms embargo against our forces. General Angeles also expects to retire from active participation in the fighting. So does General Raoul Maredo and General Manuel Chao."

To Oppose Carranza Politically.

Mr. Ramirez said: "The retirement of Villa leaders in Mexico does not signify withdrawal from the affairs of that country. We mean to let Carranza establish a sound government if he can and then join forces to oppose him politically—not by force. Mexico has had enough war. Already however, rivalry has appeared in Carranza's camp."

"General Obregon, it is said, wants to be president and I should not be surprised if he realized his ambition."

General Maytorena, Senor Ramirez and others went to Washington three weeks ago as Villa representatives.

PENNSYLVANIA BOARD AMENDS STATE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 27.—The Pennsylvania Livestock Sanitary Board today issued the following amendment to the state quarantine regulations against foot and mouth disease, effective Nov. 1:

"No cattle, sheep or other ruminants or swine that originate in any part of Illinois under federal quarantine will be permitted to be unloaded in Pennsylvania for any purpose; those originating in Illinois under federal 'restricted' quarantine and handled in accordance with federal regulations will be permitted to be shipped through but not unloaded in Pennsylvania, those originating in Illinois under federal 'closed,' 'exposed' or 'modified' quarantine will not be permitted to enter or pass through Pennsylvania for any purpose."

MUNITION MEN MAY GET COTTON MILLS.

Natchez, Miss., Oct. 27.—The Natchez Cotton Mills will be sold here today and tomorrow, and it is expected that a large munitions company will bid for the extensive property. There are two large brick mills, and two other mills which have been shut down for seven years. Sixty-seven dwellings are included in the property, together with machinery and mechanical equipments in the mills.

FERGUS INJUNCTION CASE IS UNDECIDED

STATE SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS
WITHOUT TAKING ACTION

Court Sustains Law Giving Livestock Board Authority to Slaughter herds of Stock in Which there are Animals Affected with Foot and Mouth Disease.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—The adjournment today of the Illinois Supreme court without giving a decision in the Fergus injunction suits case disappointed hundreds of state employees whose salaries have been tied up for nearly four months. Moreover Governor Dunne's decision as to the necessity of a special session of the general assembly must await the decision, promised for some time "in vacation."

Court Sustains Law.

Considered by state officials and livestock men as the most important decision made by the court was that sustaining the law which gives the state livestock board authority to slaughter herds of stocks in which there are animals affected with foot and mouth disease. After conferring with Attorney General Lucey, Dr. Dyson, state veterinarian, said the prize herd of Mrs. Scott Durand in Lake county would not be slaughtered if found free of infection.

Attorney General Lucey said there was no doubt as to the state's right to kill the animals without further delay.

McClay Hoynes, state's attorney of Cook county was sustained in his contention that the Chicago election commissioners must produce in court the ballots in the April election. The court held that while the ballots must not pass out of the custody of the commission it must nevertheless produce them.

Holds Ordinance Invalid.

The court held invalid the city ordinance of Villa Grove which was enacted to prohibit the erection of bill boards advertising spirituous liquors. Villa Grove is "dry." H. J. Haskell erected such a sign and the village board and the mayor had it torn down.

The case of David Holmgren against the city of Moline and the board of directors of the city hospital was reversed with the directions to the lower court to set aside the levy of taxes to meet a recent bond issue, court held that the act giving authority for special assessment for hospital purposes passed by the legislature in 1913 could not be construed as permitting the collection of taxes in excess of the constitutional limit.

CONGRESSMAN MANN URGES PREPAREDNESS FOR DEFENSE

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Preparedness for national defense, preservation of home industries and control of the world markets as duties of the United States were urged by Congressman James R. Mann, minority leader of the house in an address before the Chicago chamber of commerce today.

"We are at one of the crises of the world's history," he said. "It is time to forget our partisanship, yield much of our party affiliation and appreciate the nation's needs and the country's opportunities."

DANIELS SIGNS ORDER FOR GIANT BIPLANE FOR NAVY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary Daniels signed an order today for the construction at the navy yard here of a giant biplane for the navy, the first aircraft to be built at any government establishment. Plans for the machine were prepared by navy engineers under the direction of a naval constructor, H. C. Richardson, a qualified air pilot, who has been at work on the design for months. The craft will have a carrying capacity of 2,200 pounds and will make from 50 to 80 miles an hour for a period of seven hours without stop. It will be driven by two 150 horse power motors. When completed the machine will almost equal in size the great French battle airships recently constructed and it is understood the navy ordnance bureau is at work on the design of a 3-inch gun with which it can be equipped.

CONGRESS OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH ADJOURNS MEETING

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—The closing session of the Congregational bodies which met with the National Congress of Congregational Church was that of the American Board late today when farewells were given to missionaries who are soon to sail for foreign fields.

The council itself adjourned earlier to meet in Los Angeles in 1917. The registration list showed that 1,850 delegates to all bodies had been in attendance during the week of the meeting.

KELLY HAS BROKEN LEG.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Fred Kelly, world's champion hurdler in several classes, has broken his leg in football practice it was learned here today. He has been playing with the University of Southern California but did not play last Saturday. The extent of his injury was not announced at that time.

U. S. SENDS LONG DELAYED PROTEST

Note Regarding British Interference With Commerce on Way

WAS STARTED SUNDAY

Document Covers Exhaustively
the Argument of the American Government

REPEATS FIRST ARGUMENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—America's long considered protest against British interference with commerce between the United States and Europe has been despatched to London by special messenger and will be presented by Ambassador Page at the British foreign office next week.

It became known today that the note which is about 10,000 words long and covers exhaustively the argument of the American government on all phases of interference with neutral trade was approved by the president last Saturday and started on its way to London Sunday.

Kirk Carries Document.

Alexander W. Kirk, third secretary of the American embassy at Berlin, who had returned to Washington carrying documents from Ambassador Gerard, was entrusted with the mission on his return journey to Berlin.

Until today the fact that the communication had been sent was kept secret. Instructions having been given to officials that no announcement of any kind was to be made about it. That it contains a repetition of arguments made in the note of March 30th, which recorded the Washington government's first protest against the order in council or so-called blockade, is admitted but no intimation was given by officials today as to what measures are proposed in the event that there is no modification of British practices.

Discusses Lengthy Notes.

Not only does the latest communication cover the various notes and memoranda sent by the British government since March 30th, but it also acknowledges and discusses the lengthy notes that came from Great Britain in January in response to the first protests by the United States against interference with neutral trade.

It was the note now on its way which former Secretary Bryan advocated sending at the same time that the second Lusitania note was despatched to Berlin last June. President Wilson declined to send it at that time because of the fear that the United States might be placed in a position of bargaining for its rights with Germany on the basis of its attitude toward Great Britain. With the clearing up of the submarine controversy through the satisfactory settlement of the Arabic case, it was announced at the state department that the note to Great Britain would go forward.

Considered for Three Weeks.

After three weeks of consideration at the white house it finally was dispatched. As prepared originally at the state department the document was understood to be vigorous in tone and replete with objections to Great Britain's policy. No intimation as to whether the document since has been modified was available tonight.

COUNTY CLERKS WILL LIKELY ENDORSE TICE HARD ROADS LAW

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 27.—As a result of the addresses today of the three members of the state highway commission, the convention of County Clerks and Supervisors will likely pass resolutions endorsing the Tice hard roads law. The law was attacked by B. F. Staymates of Clinton.

"The Tice law is the only law passed since the state of Illinois was admitted to the Union that acts solely for the benefit of the farmer," said Thomas Wilson of the commission. "And it affords the only example on the statute books of Illinois in which cities are taxed for the benefit of the rural communities."

The convention will elect officers and adjourn tomorrow. Quincy will probably be selected as the next meeting place.

BROUGHT PRESSURE ON SHOE MANUFACTURERS

St. Louis, Oct. 27.—Testimony introduced in the hearing of the government anti-trust suit against the United Shoe Machinery company in the federal district court here today was that the company brought pressure to bear on shoe manufacturers to prevent them from using machinery other than that made by the United Shoe Machinery company.

MAY CALL MEETING.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—President Norris L. "Tip" O'Neill of the Western League said tonight it was likely he would call a meeting of the organization for Sunday in this city.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Ralph K. Blair and Dr. Thomas Addis were found guilty today of conspiring to hire and retain men in the United States for British military service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Speaker Clark has been invited by President Wilson to confer with him some time before congress convenes on the general legislative program for the next session, particularly the administration's plans for national defense.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Women sentenced to Chicago's house of correction will be enrolled in a school of domestic science, for instruction in housework, sewing, cooking and laundry work, John L. (Whitman), superintendent, announced today.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Oct. 27.—Col. John C. Moore, pioneer newspaper editor and first mayor of Denver, Colo., died here early today at the home of his son. He was 84 years old. Death was due to paralysis.

CHAMPAGNE, Ill., Oct. 27.—Governor Dunne has accepted the invitation of President James of the University of Illinois to attend the football game here Saturday when Minnesota will oppose the conference champions.

BEN BOW, Ill., Oct. 27.—Dr. J. C. Helper, who a month ago was stricken with anthrax, today was pronounced completely cured by his physician. Dr. Helper's wife was largely instrumental in bringing about his cure.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 27.—Ernest E. Ayton, a wealthy British mining man, and a priest (unnamed) of the Guanacavi district of Chihuahua were kidnapped on Oct. 19 by an armed force whose affiliations are unknown, according to advices received today by the acting British consul here.

MACOMB, Ill., Oct. 27.—Hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain in McDonough county which has been prohibited from the market by foot and mouth quarantine of farms, will be released by the ruling of the state live stock board permitting it to move after inspection of farms by state veterinarians.

BERLIN, Oct. 27. (via London).—Ambassador Gerard declined today to discuss for publication his conference yesterday with Emperor William. The conference, which took place at Potsdam, lasted for an hour.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 27.—Preston E. Gillett, judge of the 25th judicial district of Kansas, died at a local hospital early today, following an operation for appendicitis Monday. Judge Gillett was 55 years old and had served continuously in his present position for 25 years. His home was at Kingman, Kan.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Oct. 27.—Gen. Grenville M. Dodge, only living corps commander of the Civil war and a well known railroad builder, is critically ill at his home here. Gen. Dodge returned three weeks ago from New York where he went to consult a specialist. He is 84 years old.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Oct. 27.—The American Traffic association in convention here today, contended that the best method of placing railroad time tables before the public was to advertise them in the newspapers. It was decided that the old custom of advertising the arrival and departure of trains should be revived.

EPISCOPAL BOARD TO SEND SEVEN DELEGATES TO PANAMA CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal church today voted to send seven delegates to the Panama inter-denominational missionary congress to be held next February. The action was taken after two days of spirited discussion, during which it was brought out that objection to the proposition was due not to the fact that the Roman Catholic Church had declined to participate but because there seemed to be some question as to whether the board had authority to sanction a conference with a board or boards from other denominations. After a long series of arguments today the board adopted a resolution that it "shall be the purpose of the Panama congress to recognize all elements of truth and goodness in any form of religious faith" and also stating that the Episcopal board delegates will attend the congress "with no purpose, authority or power of committing the board to co-operation."

IRON WORKS PLANS BIG BOND ISSUE.

Stenerville, O., Oct. 27.—The stockholders of the La Belle Iron Works of this city are holding a meeting today to vote on the proposed $7,500,000 bond issue proposed by the directors, for the extension of the plant and betterments.

STRIKERS DEFEAT PROPOSAL.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 27.—Advices today from the Clifton-Morenci-Metalliferous Copper strike district of Arizona, indicated that the proposal to offer arbitration the wage scale, voted upon by mass meetings held in the three camps, was defeated. It has been reported as approved.

FEDERAL JURY TO CONSIDER PLOT

Cases of Five Charged With Conspiracy Will Go
Before Jury Next Month

MAY BE MORE ARRESTS

U. S. Attorney Does Not Believe
Those Most Responsible
Have Yet Been Found

BREITUNG RELEASED ON BOND

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Federal grand jury consideration of the cases of the five men charged with conspiracy in plotting to destroy transatlantic ships laden with munitions for war for the allies will begin next month, his was announced today by United States Attorney H. Snowden Marshall.

After reviewing all the alleged evidence held by the government against the men, Robert Fay, Walter L. Scholz, Paul Daech, Dr. Herbert Klenze and Max Breitung, Mr. Marshall said the government was not convinced that all those implicated had been arrested.

May Be More Arrests Later.

"Have any more warrants been issued?" he was asked. "No more warrants have been issued and no more arrests are contemplated for the present," he replied. "Yet there may be further arrests later. We do not believe that those most responsible for the conspiracy have yet been found. We have much material gathered as evidence which still has to be digested. One of the acts of the conspiracy was the actual fixing of a bomb to a ship for experimental purposes. Our inquiry has not disclosed that any bomb was placed on a ship with intent to blow it up nor does our information indicate that Fay, who says he was a Lieutenant in the German army was acting in a way other than on his own responsibility."

Bernstorff Denies Assertion.

Another development was the sending of a telegram to the state department by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador denying that Fay had any connection with the German secret service or with the United States attorney's force was working on the preparation of the case for the grand jury detectives were busy in Veehawken and Hoboken, N. J., gathering explosives and acids alleged to have been used by Fay and Scholz, his brother-in-law in experimenting with bombs, which, according to Fay's confession were to be placed on the rudders or propellers of ships, so timed that they would explode after the vessels left New York.

Breitung Furnishes Bond.

Breitung, cousin of E. N. Breitung, a mining man and ship owner, was the only one of the five alleged conspirators who obtained liberty on bond. He appeared before a United States commissioner today and furnished $25,000 bond for his hearing on November 4th. Breitung, Klenze and Daech are charged in the complaint with having furthered the conspiracy in aiding Fay to obtain explosives for bombs.

INDICT ELEVEN ON CHARGE OF USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Three officers and eight salesmen of two whisky concerns were indicted by a federal grand jury here today on a charge of using the mails to defraud. About $500,000 is said by the authorities to have been obtained by the defendants since 1907 through the sales of cheap whisky on the representation that it was high grade and by the manipulation of notes given them by liquor dealers.

All of the officers, Adolph, Felix and Leonard Prince were released on bonds. The bond of Felix Prince, who pleaded not guilty, is $5,000, and the bonds of the other Prince is $3,000 each. The eight salesmen have not been apprehended.

HARVARD HOSPITAL SQUAD IS ENLARGED.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 27.—The Harvard hospital squad was enlarged today by the addition of Harry G. Gaden, the strongest man in the varsity rush line, who complained of a muscle bruise and Morrill Wiggin, sub-harback, who suffered a strained ligament during a scrimmage of the second team.

SINK BRITISH STEAMER.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 27.—The British tank steamer H. C. Henry, when two days out from Alexandria, Egypt, on the Mediterranean sea, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, according to a telegram received today by the Pacific Crossposting company of Seattle, owners of the vessel. No lives were lost, according to the message which gave no other details.

BELIEVE BANDITS ARE HIDING IN HILLS

EIGHT MEN HOLDUP M. K. & T. SOUTH-BOUND LIMITED

Three are Thought to be in Texas—
One Report Says Robbers Obtained
$60,000—Other Estimates Placed
Amount at $9,000.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 27.—The uninhabited fastnesses of Kiamichi Hills, in the far southeastern corner of Oklahoma, rendezvous of bandit gangs since frontier days, tonight were believed to be holding safe from pursuit, five of the eight men who early today held up and robbed south-bound limited train No. 9, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad at Onapa, 27 miles south of Muskogee. Three of the outlaws were thought to be in Texas after having ridden into Muskogee to obtain medical attention for one of their number and then boarded another southbound train. Officers investigating the hold-up learned that three men, apparently ranchers, came to town early today and had Dr. B. W. Randall treat the lacerated ear of one of their number. The wound, according to the injured man was caused by striking a tree branch while riding through the woods at night. It is believed the wound was caused by the explosion which wrecked the express safe robbed by the outlaws.

Despite the statements of express officials that the booty obtained by the bandits was small, many rumors were in circulation today concerning the result of the robbery. One report, from McAlester declared the robbers obtained $60,000 which was being sent into the south for the cotton marketing season.

Railroad officials, however said that the train had not been carrying large sums of money for several years since it was robbed once before. Other estimates placed the amount stolen by the robbers at $9,000, though from the general offices of the M. K. & T. road in Dallas, Texas, came a statement that the men obtained only four sacks of cheap jewelry which had been tied up like money bags.

SOCIALISTS TO NOMINATE THEIR CANDIDATES BY REFERENDUM

Blanks Are Sent to All Members
From the Party Headquarters.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The first referendum of any American political party to nominate candidates for president and vice-president, began today when nomination blanks were sent to all members from the headquarters of the Socialist party.

In the discussion of possible results of the primary Eugene V. Debs, Social candidate for president, Seymour Stedman, Socialist candidate for mayor of Chicago, and Charles Edward Russell, of New York, writer and lecturer, were named as the most prominent candidates.

The method by which the nomination will be made was explained by one of the leaders today. "Each local organization may nominate its candidate by referendum," he said. "If the nominee receives ten supporters throughout the country in a referendum. If none of the nominees gets a majority a second referendum on the two highest candidates is taken and his one who gets the majority will be the nominee."

TAKE IMPORTANT STEPS IN EFFORT TO CURB BANDIT OUTBREAKS

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 27.—Important steps in an effort to curb bandit outbreaks in the lower Rio Grande valley were announced late today by Governor James E. Ferguson on his return from San Antonio, where he conferred with Major General Frederick Funston concerning the border situation. The first in importance, the governor announced, he had directed a communication to President Wilson requesting him to appeal to General Carranza to cooperate with the United States army in their efforts to suppress disorders on the border. Governor Ferguson said the entire situation had been laid before the president and that Washington would be kept advised as to conditions. In addition Governor Ferguson issued a proclamation which offered a reward of $1,000 for the delivery "dead or alive" to any sheriff in Texas of Luis de la Rosa and Aniceto Pizano, alleged leaders in recent bandit raids.

TRANSACT NO BUSINESS.

New Haven, Oct. 27.—No business was transacted at the annual stockholders meeting of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company today. The wish of representatives of certain interests to examine proxies delayed announcement of the vote on the question of approving the acts of the directors as contained in the annual statement and the election of 15 directors.

TRANSFER BORDER TROOPS.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 27.—With the dispatch today of the 28th United States infantry to station along the Rio Grande between Progreso, Tex., of here and the transfer of the fourth infantry to stations between Brownsville and San Benito, army officers now believe they are in a position to act quickly and effectively against any future bandit raid.

TEUTONS OPEN WAY TO TURK CAPITAL

German Army Has Joined Hands With Bulgarian
Forces

SERBIA DOOMED IN NORTH

British, French and Serb
Troops in South Fight to Throw Bulgars Back

GERMANS SHOWING ACTIVITY

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The German army which crossed the Danube at Orsova has joined hands with the Bulgarians and the central powers now have an open road through Northeastern Serbia and Bulgaria to the Aegean Sea and Constantinople. They are thus in a position to send guns and munitions by river and railway to their Bulgarian and Turkish allies who will be greatly strengthened thereby.

Serbia Doomed in North.

The invasion of the northern portions of Serbia by the Austro-Germans continues a pace while Bulgaria is putting forth a strong effort to obtain control of additional sections of the Belgrade Saloniki railway. So far as the north is concerned, Serbia, it is feared by her allies, is doomed, but in the south, reinforced by the British and French who are now fighting by her side, Serbia is using all her strength to throw the Bulgarians back. After the French victory at Drivovak, the Serbians, according to the Athens report, were able to re-occupy Velest, an important railway and road junction just south of Uskub where a big battle is still in progress.

It is argued here that if the Bulgarians can be held in the south until Anglo-French reinforcements which are now on the way arrive, Bulgaria may yet be robbed of Macedonia, on which she has set her heart. But the allies will also have to make an attempt to block the German road to Turkey and their big attacks may be directed elsewhere. The internal situation of Bulgaria, which is reported serious, may have some effect on the campaign. A military conspiracy against King Ferdinand, Athens despatches says, has been unearthed and the leaders have been shot. Many of the inhabitants of Bulgaria are said to be still loyal to Russia and are showing disinclination to join the colors.

Roumanians Display Uneasiness.

The Roumanians, too, are displaying some uneasiness as to the inactivity of their government and an agitation in favor of the allies is being carried on, according to unofficial reports, by influential leaders.

Tip allies however, are depending upon their own resources and arranging to throw into the Balkans as many men as can be spared. At the present time they cannot weaken the other fronts as the Germans are showing considerable activity. The latter have made still another counter attack in the attempt to capture LaCourne in Champagne which the French recently took. Strong German patrols heralding an attack were observed in the Loos region but were dispersed.

The Germans continue their attacks against the Russians in the Riga and Dvinsk districts and claim to have penetrated the Russian position near the railway line north of Dvinsk. They could not hold all the ground gained as the Russians launched immediate counter attacks.

While the position in this region remains serious for the Russians, they appear on the whole to be holding their own.

In the south on the other hand, along the Sty river and Galician frontier, the Russians report successes both in carrying through their own attacks and repulsing German attacks.

The Italians are persisting in their offensive, and although their progress is slow, they are making advances.

Business men in Sycamore, Ill., manifested their real interest in the good roads movement Tuesday when 125 of them gathered on the highways and shoveled gravel to cover the road all the way to the neighboring town of Cortland. A great many teams were also employed and the volunteer army completed the job in one day. Thus the good work goes on. We cannot do too much of it here in Morgan county.

In line with the suggestion that whatever revenue measures are taken by congress, that due recognition should be taken of the enormous fortunes made for war orders, Senator Walsh of Montana, suggests a revenue plan. He declares that an export duty of twenty per cent should be placed on war munitions and that this action would raise $150,000,000 a year in revenues based on the present amount of munitions exported. Opinions differ on the constitutionality of such a proposition, but Senator Walsh intends to bring the question before congress.

Ministers of Springfield are making active preparations to observe November as "Go to Church Month" in the capital city. Various committees have been organized and sermons each Sunday will be on such themes as "Why Go to Church," "Why Belong to Church," "The Church in Community Life," "The Church as an Opportunity for Men." Judged by the general reputation which Springfield has for worldliness, the pastors have a splendid field for work.

Notwithstanding the fact that sixty-six per cent of our imports now enter free of duty, the cost of living does not decrease. The New York Times analyst index number showing average wholesale prices for 25 food commodities for the week ending October 16, 1915, is 142.93, compared with 141.6 for the corresponding week of October, 1913, the first month of the Democratic tariff during which month 61 per cent of imports came in free. This does not square with the Democratic campaign promise that by means of duty free goods they would lower the cost of living.

Mr. Taft Consistent.
The Christian Science Monitor says:
"Let it be said, in justice to William Howard Taft, that in advocating the placing of certain limitations upon the appointing power of the President of the United States, as he has been doing lately, his course is perfectly consistent. While chief executive he frequently declared himself in favor of taking from the President appointments to all local federal offices and placing them in the hands of the civil service commission. The need of such a change is as apparent now as it was when Mr. Taft was in the White House, both for the good of the public service and for the comfort of the President."

Every once in a while one hears complaint from non-church supporters because of the feeling that ministers have an easy time and that

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

BEDTIME STORIES.

Long years ago, when I was small, not more than forty inches tall, an ancient woman used to tell fierce goblin stories passing well. Before

I went to roost at night, she'd spring those yarns with keen delight and all the long dark night I'd dream of horrid shapes, each one a scream. And now that I am old and gray, and bent and worn, and full of h's, I fear the dark and all its tests of witches weird and sheeted ghosts, and only daylight can dispense the things that make the night a curse. And oftentimes I go and fume around that foolish beldame's tomb, and tell her—though she cannot hear—how she made night a thing of fear. And even as we go to press foot fumes are sowing long distress, by telling kids, in solemn tones, dark tales of ghosts and bats and bones. Oh, tell the children pleasant tales of silver ships with purple sails, that come across the sunlit seas to bring them dolls and Christmas trees.

many of them have entered the ministry because it affords the easiest way of getting a living. Evidently this state of facts does not apply to the Baptist denomination, at least. Figures recently compiled and quoted by Rev. Joseph E. Perry of New York at a Baptist convention held at Boston, shows that the average salary of Baptist ministers in the United States is $1.87 a day of about $689 a year. Certainly this sum is not sufficient to provide for a great deal of extravagant living on the part of the Baptist brothers.

The Library's Real Value.
In a recent address Edward E. Slosson, literary editor of the Independent pointed out in somewhat unusual terms what is the real value of a public library. He declared that the value of a library can be measured by the amount of information it supplies and not by the number of books upon its shelves. Mr. Slosson said:

"A library should consist largely of unreadable books; books nobody wants to own, but anybody may need sometime. Its service to the community is measured by the amount of information it supplies, not by the number of volumes it issues. It should be a magazine of mental ammunition for men on the firing line of modern thought."

"The least valuable volumes in the library are those with the finest bindings. The most valuable are those with no bindings at all. The efficiency of a library is in proportion to the amount of unbound literature it contains. The omnivorous and inveterate reader is not the one who needs the library most. He will get books anyhow. The man who draws a book with reluctance. When the man who has never been in the library appears at the door, make a rush to satisfy his wants, for it is dire necessity that has driven him in. It is assuredly one of the functions of the public library to cultivate the reading habit. The reading habit, the ability to find what one wants to know without much reading. Reading in itself is not meritorious, any more than walking."

It is a generally accepted fact that the public librarians in Jacksonville for several years have realized something of Mr. Slosson's message and have sought to make the library a center of community interest, an institution spreading abroad its good influence, a great dictionary wherein the meaning not only of words, but of work and of life may be found.

Simplified Spelling.
Some years ago the National Educational association endorsed the movement for simplified spelling by adopting the newer form for the spelling of twelve words in common use. There are a great any other words in the English language for which some members of the association believe the simpler forms should be used, but it was not the desire to take any radical steps.

At a recent meeting of the Illinois Newspaper association the suggestion made by the National Educational association was approved and many of the papers represented have agreed to use these twelve words. The organized movement to secure simplified spelling has been financed by one of the great educational foundations. The men who furnish the money to employ field secretaries and pay the other expenses for making this educational campaign have been willing to do so because educators declare that the complexity of the English language makes an added year to the common school course necessary. Experts are of the opinion that if simplified spelling could be adopted in its wide extent that it would be possible to reduce the common school course one year without in any way lessening the value to the pupil.

The Journal has determined upon the use of the twelve words in simplified form, and hereafter when used in this paper they will be spelled as follows:—

tho for though.
altho for although.
thru for through.
thruout for throughout.
thoro for thorough.
thoroly for thoroughly.
thorofare for thoroughfare.
Program for programme.
Catalog for catalogue.
Decalog for decalogue.
Pedagog for pedagogue.
Prolog for prologue.

THE LESSON FROM WASTE
(Contributed.)

In an editorial in yesterday's Journal attention is called to the quantities of apples throughout our section which are of so little value that many of them are going to waste in the orchards while the people of the cities are compelled to go without or pay exorbitant prices for them. Regrets are expressed that no one has proposed a plan whereby this excess fruit can be put to good use by adding it to the food supply of thousands in the cities who need it. A plan has been proposed which if carried out will give the apple grower better prices for his apples and yet will permit the consumer to buy these same apples at reasonable prices. The plan is the Illinois system of State Aid Roads.

The production and distribution of the apple crop is one of the many problems that can only be solved by a dependable system of roads, and is a good example of the benefits of such roads. In addition to the many farms near us that produce apples in small quantities there are within a radius of 20 to 100 miles of Jacksonville great commercial orchards in Macoupin, Greene, Pike, and Calhoun counties and if reports are true, the fruit in some of these orchards has not been picked this year because the apples would not pay for their handling. It is true that the orchardists who have sold their fruit have received ridiculously low prices therefor. Yet when the people of Jacksonville want apples next winter they will pay good prices for them. It is not unusual prices for apples to retail at $2.00 to $3.00 per bushel in the late winter and spring. They will probably reach these prices before the new crop comes in.

The high cost of living is the direct result of the high cost of selling. It costs more to put the farm products of the United States into the hands of the consumers than the farmers receive for their products. The economic problem of today is not so much one of producing as of distribution and the country road is the first link in the chain of distribution. Take the distribution of the apple crop for an example. Owners of commercial orchards as a rule sell their crop on the trees to buyers representing dealers in the large cities—that is they sell them in that way, if they can find buyers and they can find them except in years of unusual apple crops. The buyer sends his pickers and barrels into the orchards and picks and barrels the apples. They are then hauled to the railroad station by wagon, then the railroad takes them to a cold storage plant where they are stored pending distribution.

When we want apples we go to our grocer for them. He goes to the jobber and he to the owner of the apples in storage. After the apples leave the storage plant they take another ride to the freight station and then another in a freight car, another from the station to the jobber and still another to the grocer. Every man who handles them and every railroad over which they pass gets some profit from the apple as does the cold storage man, and maybe the insurance man and the banker who finances the deals of the buyer. Small wonder that with so many middle men the range between the price gotten by the producer and the price paid by the consumer is so wide. The middle man's profits are legitimate and are the result of our system of distribution. It is these same profits that erect the great buildings in our large cities and we, the farmers and producers, and we, the consumers, are helping to pay for these skyscrapers.

If we had a dependable system of hard roads into the orchards of our neighboring counties, the story of the apple crop would be something like this: The orchardist would build apple storage cellars which are not expensive. Instead of selling his crop at low prices to foreign buyers he would pick and store his apples in his own cellars on his own farm and hold them until there was a demand for them. Then he would put his apples on his wagon or auto trucks and bring them into the cities and sell them to the jobber, grocer, or direct to the consumer. He would get a better price for his apples and the consumer could buy apples at a reasonable price. The profits to the railroads and a lot of middle men would be squeezed out.

This question of apple distribution strikingly shows some of the benefits of a dependable system of hard roads—a system that would enable heavy transportation every day in the year. Nothing short of such a dependable system will ever satisfy the people of Illinois for they cannot afford to be without it. It may take time to get such a system out it is certain to come.

This same system of hard roads brings the farms closer to the markets and would enable the farmers to practice a more diversified farming with profit to themselves and to the consumer. Everyone realizes that diversified farming is not only the most profitable system of agriculture but it also conserves the fertility of the lands. If our roads permitted our farmers to haul diversified crops to town when there is a demand at good prices the farmers would produce many fruits and vegetables and other farm products that we now procure from distant sections and upon which we pay heavy transportation charges and many middleman's profits.

This same system of hard roads which would bring the producers to the smaller cities to sell their products would also bring them to the smaller cities to trade. The tendency would then be to center the trade of the community in the smaller cities whereas the tendency under our present system of distribution is to center all commerce in the great cities.

The question of the apple crop and its distribution is but a small example of what we find all along the line in this community. If you are inclined to figure try your hand on this:

According to the best available figures the corn, oat, wheat, rye and hay crop of Morgan county is worth over four million dollars this year. Statistics show that the consumers pay over eight million dollars for these crops. Just figure out how much of the middleman's profits remain at home in the hands of our farmers, local dealers and retailers, goes to the captains of industry in the large cities, and then figure out whether or not a dependable system of hard roads would be worth what it would cost our farmers and business men.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

The Rev. H. H. Peters of Paris, for five years secretary of endowment for Eureka college, and one of the best known ministers of Christian churches in Illinois, has been stricken with facial paralysis and it is doubtful whether he will again be able to attend to his duties in the pulpit. One side of his face was affected soon after the close of an evening service and before Mr. Peters could reach a hospital, the other side became paralyzed. The greatest consideration has been shown to Mr. Peters and his family, according to Clarence L. DePew, who was in Paris the first of the week in the course of a trip to eastern and southern Illinois and Indiana. Members of the congregation made up two purses of $250 each, with no solicitation. Other congregations of the city and have gone with their pastor to the Christian church and will in turn continue the practice so long as may be necessary.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Violet Vivian Smith Becomes the Bride of Mr. Roy J. Goodrick Wednesday Evening.

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith, 815 Doolin avenue, when their daughter, Miss Violet Vivian Smith became the bride of Mr. Roy J. Goodrick. The ceremony was witnessed by seventy-five guests, and was performed by Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of the Central Christian church, the ring service being used.

Preceding the ceremony Mr. Oswald L. Buhre, of Chicago, a cousin of the bride, played a number of piano selections and as the young people entered the parlor, Mrs. W. E. Day, a cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride and groom stood before an embankment of asters, other autumn flowers and potted plants. The bride was becomingly dressed in a gown of flora de panza, trimmed with overdress of dew drop net. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses.

Following the marriage a suitable collation was served. The young people received many beautiful gifts showing the regard in which they are held by their friends.

The bride has always made Jacksonville her home and she received her education in the public schools. She is a member of the Central Christian church and has used her musical talents as a singer in the church choir. She is winsome in manner, lovable in disposition, and in every way fitted for a true helpmate. For sometime she was an employee of the Phelps and Osborne store.

The groom is a son of the late Dr. M. H. Goodrick and he was born and reared in Jacksonville. He attended the high school for two years. He is a member of the Centenary M. E. church and of the Order of Red Men. Recently he has been employed by the city. He is a young man who is well liked by his associates and friends, because of his kindly consideration toward everyone, and his services have always been valued by his employers.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodrick left in an automobile for a short wedding trip and upon their return to Jacksonville will be at home to their friends after November 3, on South Church street. Among those present from away to attend the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Ona Crum, Literberry, Mrs. Sallie Crum, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. E. Baptist and daughter Dorothy of Springfield and Mrs. Anna Buhre and son Oswald of Chicago.

MISS ESTHER BROWN BECOMES

BRIDE OF DANIEL DIETRICK

Pretty Home Ceremony United Two Young People Well Known in Concord Neighborhood — Fair Home in Readiness.

The marriage of Miss Esther Jennie Brown and Mr. Daniel Dietrick was solemnized at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, three miles north of Concord. The families are so well known in the county that the occasion was one of more than usual importance, and the ceremony was especially impressive.

The company which gathered for the ceremony included relatives and near friends.

As the wedding party entered the south parlor Miss Abbie G. Hayden, an aunt of the groom, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Then as the vows were said, the notes of the Flower Song were heard and afterward Miss Hayden played the Mendelssohn march.

Just at the hour mentioned the wedding party stood before Rev. J. G. Reid, of Clinton, who performed the ceremony, using the ring service.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Esther Dietrick, a sister of the groom, and Perry Brown, a brother of the bride. The bride's gown was white crepe meteor silk and she wore a sweeping veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of cream roses. Miss Brown's gown was of pink crepe de chene and she carried roses of the same color.

The service was said under a beautiful arch of autumn foliage, and all through the house autumn tints predominated in the artistic decorations. The leaves present such a wealth of color this fall that the possibilities of decoration were great, and the effect of all added greatly to the beauty of the whole service. The ceremony was followed by congratulations of the most hearty kind, and then the entire company enjoyed the wedding supper. As the crowning event of the supper came the cutting of the wedding cake. Miss Hester Dietrick found the key, Miss Abbie Hayden the dime and Rev. Mr. Kane the ring.

The bride so happily married in this ceremony is a graduate of the Woman's college and so is known to a great many Jacksonville people as well as those in her own immediate neighborhood. She has been active in the M. P. church at Concord and thoroughly interested in the various church auxiliary organizations. She is withal a young woman of such charming personality and strong character that there was more than usual interest in the service by which she became the bride of Mr. Dietrick. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dietrick and is one of the best known young men of the county. He was a student at Whipple Academy and supplemented his work there by a course at the University of Illinois. Like his bride, he has been active in the work of Concord M. P. church and has for some time been serving as the superintendent of the Sunday school. He is to use phraseology often heard, "a very fine young man", and is making a success of the complicated business of modern farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrick will reside on a farm south of Concord, where a home is in readiness for them. They slipped away after the ceremony and drove to Markham, where they took the Wabash train for Chicago.

After a brief wedding journey they will return to Concord and the new home which is awaiting them. The gifts were handsome and numerous, and attested the esteem in which both of the young people are held by their friends and relatives. Among those present from Jacksonville were Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Miller, George Fredlander, Mrs. Lewis Fredlander and Miss Minnie Fredlander, Misses Abbie G. and Hattie Hayden, John Gibbs and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Henderson of Arcadia.

MISS GRACE VIVIAN HART

WEDS D. HUSTON COWGUR

Wedding Was Quiet Affair Owing to Illness in Family—Will Reside at Home of Bride.

D. Huston Cowgur and Miss Grace Vivian Hart were quietly married at the home of the bride, 458 Hardin avenue, Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Invitations had been sent out for the wedding but owing to the illness of Miss Hart they were recalled. The ceremony which was said by the Rev. Percy W. Stephens, pastor of First Baptist church, was witnessed by only the families of the contracting parties and Miss Eunice Harvey and Miss Alma Peters, intimate friends of the bride, whom she had selected for her bridesmaids.

Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hart. She was born in Waverly and received her early education in the public schools of that city. Later the family resided in Paris, Mo. When they came to Jacksonville she entered the high school and attended for three years, leaving in her senior year to take up the millinery trade which she followed for three years. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cowgur and was educated in the Jacksonville public schools. He served a year in the United States Navy and then took up the occupation of farming. At the present time he is in the employ of the Jacksonville Transfer company.

The newly married couple will make their home for the present with the bride's parents at 458 Hardin avenue.

MISS EDITH COLTON BECOMES

BRIDE OF WILLIAM SCHOLFIELD

Ceremony Took Place at Home of the Bride's Parents at Woodson—Young People Will Reside on Farm Near Lynnville.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colton at Woodson on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Edith Alice became the bride of Wm. F. Scholfield. The house was beautifully decorated in rose and carnations, chrysanthemums being used up stairs.

At seven o'clock, Mrs. George McKean began the program with two violin selections, "A Perfect Day," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "Berceuse" from Chopin. This was followed by two vocal solos, "O, Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," sung by Mrs. Charles E. Iram with Miss Eva Baxter as accompanist.

The bride and groom, preceded by Dr. A. B. Morey of Jacksonville, entered to the strains of Wedding March from Lohengrin, played by Miss Eva Baxter. The solemn and impressive words of the beautiful ring ceremony were said under a bower of green and white.

The bride was beautifully and tastefully attired in a creation of white crepe de chene over Irish lace and pearl trimming; she carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The bride's mother, Mrs. Colton wore a gown of gray silk trimmed in old rose velvet; the groom's mother was gown in black silk.

Eight intimate friends of the bride served the wedding collation. Each was becomingly attired in the following gowns: Miss Eva Mortimer, pink chiffon trimmed in crepe meteor; Miss Sadie Iram, pink silk; Miss Ina Gibson, green silk trimmed in pink rose buds; Miss Bird Blimling, white organdie trimmed with lace; Miss Ethel Sooy, pink organdie with white net and black ribbon velvet; Miss Edna Cox, white net over white messaline and trimmed in shadow lace; Miss Lena Meggison, pink silk trimmed in white fur; Miss Marguerite Steinmetz, green crepe de chene trimmed with burnt orange messaline and white fur.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colton. She received her education in the Woodson school and was graduated from the Jacksonville high school. She also attended the Woman's College from which school she was graduated in a teacher's course. She has been prominent in church work being a member of Unity Presbyterian church, a teacher in the Sunday school and pianist of both church and Sunday school for a number of years. She also has been a teacher of music for a number of years and has been very prominent in all of the social affairs of the community. She will be greatly missed by the people of Woodson.

The groom is a prosperous farmer of Lynnville. He is a member of the Methodist church of that place and a young man of sterling qualities. He received his education in the Lynnville schools. He has always lived in the Lynnville neighborhood, where he and his bride will reside and will carry good wishes of their friends for a happy life.

An unusual feature of the occasion was that five intimate friends of the bride, wore their wedding gowns. They were Mrs. George McKean, Mrs. Allen Russell, Mrs. Florence Darwent, Mrs. Charles Iram and Mrs. William Ricks, Jacksonville.

When the bride threw her bouquet the rose containing the ring was caught by Miss Eva Mortimer.

Many beautiful presents were received, among them a beautiful set of silverware from the Unity Workers of the church and also a set of silver from the men of the church and a beautiful bunch of white roses from the bride's brother of New Rockford North Dakota.

Among the guests present were the following: Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Morey, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Scholfield, Charles Scholfield, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fearneyhough and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Scholfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rawlings, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Busey and sons Edgar and Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schumacher and Miss Marie Busey, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Darwent and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Darwent, Mr. and Mrs. George Busey, Miss Mabel Scholfield, Mrs. Eliza Scholfield, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Currier, Mr. and Mrs. J. Baxter, Miss Eva Baxter, Ray Baxter, Mrs. E. J. Sooy, Miss Ethel Sooy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Steinmetz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Iram, Miss Marguerite Steinmetz, Miss Jane Iram, Misses Mattie and Sadie Iram, Miss Bird Blimling, Mrs. W. G. Russell, Miss Eva Mortimer, Earl Mortimer, Miss Lulu Casteen, Miss Edna Cox, Miss Nina Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ricks, Miss Ina Gibson, Miss Grace McAllister, Miss Lena Meggison and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Russell.

J. C. LONGERGAN OF MURRAYVILLE WEDS WEDNESDAY IN CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lonergan of Murrayville, who were married Tuesday morning at St. Bartholomew's church, left Wednesday morning on the Alton Humber for Chicago, where they expected to attend the wedding of James C. Lonergan, of Murrayville and Miss Frances Murphy of Chicago. The wedding was to take place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. James Cathedral, William Lonergan, brother of the groom and Miss Nelle Murphy, sister of the bride, serving as groomsmen and bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonergan expect to remain in Chicago about a week when they will return and make their home on a farm near Woodson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lonergan and is well known in Morgan county as a young farmer of

OLD JACKSONVILLE

OLD MUSIC

By Ensley Moore.

Member of Illinois State Historical Society.

No doubt there were people in the early days of Jacksonville who had fine voices, and knew how to use them fittingly. But they must have been few and far between.

One of the earliest references to music here was from some of the early settlers. The original First Presbyterian church building, now standing back of the First Baptist church, was often referred to by those who worshipped there as "the Old Jerusalem". And some of these persons sang, or thought they did, in the choir there.

Church music of the early days, as to the words and tunes, was often very gloomy. This applied to camp meetings also. The lack of hymn books, and of instrumental accompaniments, made it hard to secure attractive singing. At first, the minister would often "line out" the hymn to be sung, and the audience would sing two lines, then wait till the next two were given them. Funerals had so-called music which was heartrending owing to the solemnity of the words and tunes, and to the strident and bad voices, especially of the women singers—almost every one of whom did her part. In churches, often one man would sit up in front, and "lead the singing". The best idea of this sort of work is to be recalled by memory, rather than described.

The use of instruments in church was not approved of in this region in the earlier days. Robert Hockenhull led the choir of the First Presbyterian church, of 1847, with a flute. Miss Kate Murdoch was an early singer in that denomination. Mrs. Alexander McDonald became a prominent follower. In some churches a bass viol was used to aid the singers. How much of pleasant sound it added can be imagined.

Today, with a piano in almost every home of the well to do, it is difficult to realize what lacks there were in the musical line in the long ago.

The piano, succeeding the harpsichord and spinet, began to be extensively used about one hundred and fifty years ago. But it was too costly for the dwellers in log cabins, and on the lines of the frontier. A cheaper and more popular instrument, answering the uses of the piano in some degree, came in the melodeon, which an American made much improvement in, about 1836. This was given its power of utterance by pedals used as are those of the cabinet organ which appeared about the end of our Civil War. Both of these "came standard in church worship before the people had become rich enough to install pipe organs. Probably the first of the latter used in Illinois was the little instrument they had in Trinity Episcopal church. The first large pipe organ here was that put in the First Presbyterian church late in the year 1861, largely through the efforts of Dr. L. M. Glover, pastor of the church. The night, in December, before the Sabbath when the organ was first to be used, the building was burned. Nothing daunted, the congregation secured the use of Strawn's Hall, and put in another organ. When the church of 1867 was built the old organ was sold to the Baptists.

But the charm of music, to most people, is in the sentiments which words give voice to. These may be in sacred music, in patriotic or in love songs. Already sacred music has been spoken of in this article.

Before the war of '61 there was little of hymns or songs to arouse popular enthusiasm. "Hail Columbia," "Yankee Doodle" and "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean" were among the best known. The war brought "The Star Spangled Banner" into strong prominence, and it was sung with great enthusiasm, all through the conflict. But it was for Julia Ward Howe to give to the nation the grand words of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and it is our greatest appeal to highest patriotism, although "America" still holds its deserved high position in the souls of all true Americans.

The war also gave us many good and popular songs suited to the times, such as "John Brown," "We Are Coming, Father Abraham," "Willie, we have missed you," "The vacant chair," Rally round the

ILLINOIS COLLEGE STUDENTS

PREPARE FOR WESLEYAN GAME

College Band Leads Booster Parade to Central Park Wednesday Afternoon.

A loyal and enthusiastic body of students will be on the side lines Friday afternoon to cheer to victory the Illinois College football team at the Wesleyan game. This was shown Wednesday when more than one hundred men of the college and a company of the young women formed in parade and marched to Central Park led by the College band. Several stirring airs were played and much was done toward advertising the Friday game. Wednesday morning the weekly student meeting period was given to song practice with a view to preparing for the contest. Some three hundred special invitations have been sent to alumni requesting their presence when Illinois makes the big fight for championship honors.

flag." "Tenting on the old camp ground," "Tramp, tramp, tramp boys are marching," "Marching through Georgia," "Just before the battle," "Let me kiss him for his mother" and others. The Negro issue in those days of battling was brought out by "The Kingdom Coming," "Old Shady" and such pieces.

About 1845, an actor named Dan Tmmett originated "Negro Minstrelsy" which gave to us many a reaching strain of melody and sentiment. Perhaps the earliest of these—after "Jim Crow," was "Uncle Ned," then there was "Old Virginny" and "The Old Kentucky Home," "Nancy Till," "Nellie Gray" and "Suwannee river." Stephen C. Foster wrote many of the most appealing of these songs. There is no "ski" about these simple heart touchers, but they filled a very good place.

The purely sentimental songs might only have been English, Irish or Scotch poems set to music, but who could forget "Robin Auldair," "Annie Laurie," "Oft in the still night" and similar carriers of emotion and love? Then of Americans, who could forget John Howard Payne and his "Home, Sweet Home," or English, "Ben Bolt" or Woodworth's "Old Oaken Bucket?" "The man with the cork leg was supposed to be very funny in the early fifties, perhaps owing to the recent invention of that means of locomotion. Who can forget "The Blue Juniata," or "Lily Dale," or "Home Again," or "Araby's daughter," or "Good bye?" Surely none whose heart holds recollection of the sweet voices and fair faces of those who rendered "The songs I delighted to hear, Long, Long Ago." It is not hard to think of them as on "The Shining Shore."

Along about the second year of our War, a song came out, beginning: "The years creep slowly by, Lorena, The snow is on the grass again. The sun's low down the sky, Lorena, The frost gleams where the flowers have been."

This song had a great run, and touched many a heart. A young woman from Kentucky who visited some relatives in the Charles Hardin family in the summer of 1862, sang this with much spirit.

"Thou hast learned to love another," "Katy Darling" and "Life on the ocean wave" will be remembered by many.

In the days of anti-slavery agitation before the War there was a troupe of "Abolition" singers known as the Hutchinsons. Among the numbers on their program was a very exhilarating and pleasing song, entitled "The Old Granite State," the chorus being:

"We're a band of brothers, from the Old granite state.

Among songs before the War, were "Hard Times," "The girl I left behind me" and "Hazel Dell."

It would hardly be respectful to that celebrity, in this connection, to omit reference to "Old Dan Tucker." There was always "something doing" when Dan came to town.

Just about beginning of the war "Dixie" came along, and it has maintained itself ever since.

Of course all the political campaigns have had more or less poetry or doggerel characteristic of the particular time. Among them being the song which ended its chorus with "Tippecanoe and Tyler too."

A well known song of older times was "The Mockingbird." Artemas Ward spoke of it in one of his effusions, about as follows: "My little darter is learning to sing 'The Mockingbird.' She has been at it about six weeks, and I think she will learn it in about six more." There was some mention in the statement, for poor Artemas never was married. It was some what like his "little show," which he never had.

Even Artemas Ward might have said: "We loved each other then, Lorena, More than we ever dared to tell, And what we might have been. Lorena, Had but one loviner prospered well."

And from the days of old Kaskaskia the violin has been heard in Illinois.

SUITS FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT. Friday will be the last day for filing suits for the November term of the circuit court. Wednesday several new cases were filed.

C. P. Ford & Co., a corporation, by their attorney F. L. Gregory, filed a suit in assumpsit against Ralph B. Frost and John A. Nolley. Attorney Gregory also filed a suit for the Menzies Shoe Co., a corporation, against Ralph B. Frost and John A. Nolley doing business under the firm name of Frost and Nolley. Both suits are action to collect debt.

Saletta and Oscar Weider by their attorney, John M. Butler, have entered suit in assumpsit against Richard Donaldson. These cases are appeals from a justice court.

Sarah A. Shepherd by her attorney, Carl E. Robinson, has filed suit against her husband, Hugh W. Shepherd, for divorce. She sets out in her bill that they were married Feb. 4, 1898 and lived together until Sept. 27, 1915. The complaint alleges habitual drunkenness and repeated and extreme cruelty to complainant and their children.

Some Topics of the Farm

Sell All the Scraps.

Farmers can well take a lesson from the great millionaire packing companies, and from such concerns as the Standard Oil. These corporations make money by using up the scraps. If Rockefeller can break even on coal oil and keep his various plants going, he will make princely profits on paraffin and his many other by-products. If the Swifts and Armour's made nothing at all on their hams and bacon, they still might be rich from hides, fertilizers, etc.

So with the farmer. He will make nearly twice as much from his corn if he puts the whole crop, stalks and all, in the silo and feeds it to his stock, rather than selling the grain and leaving the fodder to rot in the field.

It is a case of "saving the squeal" and selling it. There are many ways in which these by-products of the farm can be utilized. Sheep can be kept to eat up the weeds and underbrush. The growing pigs can be provided forage and save half the corn. Winter pasturage can be arranged for on many farms.

Every farmer should work out the problem for himself. He can usually balance a ration for his stock by using some of the unsalable by-products of the farm, with the certainty of increasing his profits. —Farm Life.

P. J. Wolfe, who farms successfully a few miles south of Jacksonville, said yesterday that he had started to shuck corn but found it was rather sappy and in consequence he was not pushing the work rapidly. He has cribs which will hold about 4,000 bushels and there are five or six of them. When he found that the corn was not quite dry enough for storage, he had one load placed in each of the cribs and then ordered the work discontinued for a time until the corn thus stored has a chance to dry out before other corn is piled on it. Mr. Wolfe has in all seventy-five acres in corn and part of this was cut and shocked in order to make it possible to plant wheat. It is his intention after shucking the corn from the remaining field to run some stock on it and later if the weather permits to cut the remaining stalks and plow them under early in the winter. Last year he had plowing going on at his farm until snow fell.

Mr. Wolfe is a great believer in fall plowing and last year had practically every foot of land on his farm not in pasture plowed before spring opened. He believes in plowing deep, especially in the fall, and in turning under weeds and grass to such a good depth that they thus furnish considerable soil fertility. The plan he likes to follow is, after fall plowing, then to plow lightly in the spring and after one discing and harrowing, the ground is in fine shape for corn or whatever crop is to be planted. Mr. Wolfe believes that the extra work which this plan involves is justified by the returns. He believes that this year in totals will prove one of the very best in the history of Morgan county farming. He is cribbing his corn because he is unwilling to sell at the present price, and while the crop here is abundant, believes that there is a shortage in the west and northwest which later on will cause a sale to factory increase in price, and he is planning to hold his crop until the early summer.

Two Public Sales Today.

A. J. Harding will have a public sale at his farm five miles south of Jacksonville and two miles from Woodson today beginning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Harding recently sold his farm and is selling off all his livestock, implements, grain, etc.

Lee Meredith will hold a sale of cows at Strawn's barn in Alexander this afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock. Twenty four cows, including high grade Durhams and Jerseys will be sold to the highest bidder.

Charles Reid, of the Ebenezer neighborhood started men shucking corn yesterday but found the ears too sappy for cribbing and postponed the work for a few days further. He said yesterday that corn is drying very rapidly now and that only a short period of our present fine weather will be necessary to entirely mature the crop and make it ready for the crib. Mr. Reid also believes that corn will be a better

BITTEN BY MAD DOG.

NOW THEY WED.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Dorothy More Wood of Park Ridge and Bjarne Lund of Edison Park, who were married today, have a new variety of romance to add to the countless species. A mad dog played the role of cupid. A year ago Miss Wood's dog was stricken with rabies. She was bitten and young Lund went to her aid. He was also bitten. They were ordered to the Pasteur Institute. For weeks they were under treatment, with a mutual dread, but as time passed the trips to the hospital took on a more pleasant aspect. When they were pronounced out of the danger limit, they decided that the days of mad dog bites should not be forgotten. The wedding was at the Hotel LaSalle, and Miss Rae Hoffman, daughter of the physician who discovered the rabies, is among the bridesmaids. Dr. Lagorio, who treated the young couple is a guest of honor.

WOMEN MAY ARABOND

MOONLIGHT MEETINGS. Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 27.—The ancient and time-honored custom of choosing only those dates for their sessions, which are on moonlight nights, so that they can meet "by the light of the moon," will be severely attacked today by insurgents among price and is not ready to sell his. He thinks that a 50c price at the present time would pay well, and he is willing to store his corn with the expectation of getting that price or better early in the coming year. Usually he feeds most of his corn, but this year the fear of cholera caused him to sell his hogs with the result that he has little stock to which to feed his abundant crop. Mr. Reid thinks that there will be no trouble about corn grading this year. Some elevators are saying the grain to grade No. 2 and others No. 4.

Every Farmer Will be Welcome. Bloomington is making great preparations for her first corn show, which will be held Nov. 1 to 8. Some valuable prizes have been offered for the best exhibits and in connection there will be a program which is intended to develop interest in general farm topics. The attendance will no doubt be large, as Bloomington is in the center of a fine agricultural section, but it's a safe guess that no day of the week will rival in interest Wednesday, Nov. 3, in Jacksonville. On that day every farmer in Morgan county is invited to come to Jacksonville as the guest of the business men.

Burgoo soup will be served in the park without charge, and there will be other good things as well to indicate to the farmers that Jacksonville people welcome them heartily and hope that their visits may be long and frequent. The occasion will be of interest to both town and country, for more and more farmers and the business men are recognizing that their interests are in common and that when the country develops and improves, the city is benefited, and that likewise the country is helped when the city progresses. The business of the city is largely dependent on agriculture and livestock, and yet the farms of the county would have considerably less value if this city was not in its present location.

Newspapers Organize to Aid Farm Development.

Editors in fourteen counties mainly in southern Illinois but including Jersey and Green counties, have formed an organization, the special purpose of which is to show farmers the advantages in co-operation and also if possible to point out wherein farmers are guilty of extravagances as related to natural resources. The editors will devote one page each week to the discussion of questions and the publication of news matter which they consider especially related to the subject which they have undertaken to emphasize. The purpose is to arouse the subscribers of each of the papers mentioned to a general sense of their relationship to groups in nearby counties; to point out the advantages of so working that they can not only be successful but can aid others.

The page in each paper is intended to be a clearing house of suggestions considering such subjects as rural improvements, credits, co-operation, markets, seed, fertility, schools, etc. It is part of the plan to organize in each one of the counties one hundred farmers representing all townships and that the hundred from each county shall belong to a general organization, making a body of fourteen hundred men through whom it is hoped that the farming communities of all the territory embraced may be reached. The plan has some details yet to be worked out, but there is much about it which shows its practical possibilities.

There are many questions vital to the interests of the farmer and thus to the community at large, which cannot be successfully handled by the individual, and the proposed organization can immediately take up the consideration of problems which manifestly must be solved in a community way. The organization which the papers have planned should be so large that it will be widespread in its results. The principle on which the organization is founded is not new, as students of soil and farming problems have been pointing to this path for some years. The Bloomington Pantagraph, in commenting upon the proposed organization, takes some well deserved credit for having acted as a pioneer in the movement. The Pantagraph for a long period of years has devoted a great deal of space to the discussion of just such problems as the fourteen editors are now proposing to give special prominence in their publications.

the sisters of the order of the Eastern Star, which holds the 38th session of the Grand Chapter here. There is a feeling among some of the members that the time of meeting should not confirm to this ancient custom, while others feel they should stick to their old traditions. The custom is a relic of the past, say the insurgents. In old times it was the custom to meet on the high hills and in the low valleys by the light of the moon.

MINNESOTA EDUCATORS MEET. Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 27.—Men and women of national prominence in educational work are on speakers' programme for the 53rd annual convention of the Minnesota Educational Association, which opened here today. Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan, who was engaged in educational work before becoming governor, is a speaker on "Sanity in Education." Governor Willis of Ohio, another former teacher, has promised to speak. Dr. John H. Finley of New York, Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, Dr. Paul Shoyer of the University of Chicago, and others are coming to the convention as speakers. The sessions will extend until Saturday.

George Craig of Woodson was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday.

SPRINGFIELD BOYS WHO WILL HELP CRUSH WESLEYAN

ILLINOIS READY FOR WESLEYAN BATTLE

FINISHING TOUCHES BEING PUT ON LOCAL ELEVEN.

Biggest Crowd Thus Far in the Season is Expected to Witness Important Game Friday—Wesleyan Will Bring Down Seven Utility Men.

Wesleyan with eighteen players and a crowd of rooters will arrive in Jacksonville over the Alton Friday morning for the big game with Coach Harmon's eleven on the Illinois pasture. The game will be called at 2 o'clock, in order to allow the visitors to catch an Alton train back to Bloomington. There has been some difficulty in securing officials as the game is on Friday and most of the official referees are busy teaching that day. At the suggestion of Wesleyan, John Larson will act as umpire, which is certainly agreeable to Illinois as he is one of the best officials in the state. It is probable that William McAndrews, of the Southern Illinois Normal at Carbondale, will be the referee. He is a splendid man and the colleges will be fortunate in securing his services. A headlinesman is still a problem and will probably be secured either from St. Louis or from the University of Illinois.

Interest in the game is already manifested and the attendance should be unusually large. Additional seats will be provided for the game. The gridiron is in splendid shape and all that is needed to put an extra spur to the contest will be a little cooler weather. Football the last few days would be a pretty hot proposition. It is the intention to have the college band out for the game and a rooters club is being organized.

Naturally Illinois is out to win the game and it is certain that a tie score will not satisfy the players. A clear title to the championship is what Illinois wants and in order to get that, there must be a big figure on the locals side of the score board. Coach Harmon had his men in a stiff practice last night, and the machine is working in good order.

Just what Coach Muhl has up his sleeve in the way of new plays is unknown to the local squad. Word comes from the Methodist camp that they have some new formations which are to be counted for great ground gainers. One thing is certain that Illinois will meet the best lineup that Wesleyan expects to present this season, as they are aware of the fact that their honors for the season depends greatly upon the results of the contest.

The Bloomington Pantagraph in speaking of the game Saturday says: "Bobby" Hurst, former star quarterback of Bloomington High school, will get a chance at the quarterback job on Wesleyan, being worked in that position last evening. He will be used as an understudy to Applegate, the Atlanta sensation and may get into the game against Illinois College at Jacksonville Friday. Hurst has been used at halfback thus far this season, but was anxious to go back to his old job and showed the expected form. Smith has been shifted to halfback.

Doocey, who was injured in the Hedding game several weeks ago, has recovered and is again in uniform. Doocey is a good halfback if he can keep his knee from going out of place, he being especially valuable on defense.

Coach Muhl will take seven utility men with him to Jacksonville Friday, but will probably start the line-up which was seen at the beginning of the Vashli game, with the exception of Thomas at guard in place of Shirley. The latter is out for the remainder of the season.

Millikin Has Hopes.

Millikin is planning for hard game with Wesleyan on November 13, but has hopes of winning. The Decatur Herald says "The Wesleyan game will also be another stumbling block for Millikin, and regardless of how weak Coach Muhl's eleven is, the Bloomington aggregation always plays strong football against Millikin. The Eastern Illinois College game for Thanksgiving in Decatur should be an easy victory for Millikin, as the Normal players have not shown any strength this season."

"Coach Wann plans a busy week for his players. He will try and develop a new punter in place of Captain Catlin, who is suffering from injuries received in the Lombard game. Coach Wann may be able to use Catlin Saturday but in all probability he will be saved for the Illinois College and Wesleyan games. One scrimmage will be held this week, while the rest of the time will be given over to signal drill, and practical on several new formations. William and Vashli had a scout watching Millikin play Saturday and as the locals were forced to use most every thing they had, several new plays will be used against the Alton eleven.

The Millikin scout at the William and Vashli-Wesleyan game came back to Millikin, reporting that both elevens were strong and that the local players must not take them too lightly. Wesleyan played wonderful football, as also did the northerners."

PURE MILK CONVENTION.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The fourth annual convention of the International Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors which opened here today has brought to Washington many municipal officials from all over the United States and Canada. These experts are charged with the duty of seeing that milk supplies are pure and wholesome and that dairies are kept in sanitary condition. For three days the government experts will co-operate with the visitors and every phase of the milk question will be discussed.

Diseases of cattle and their relation to the milk supply, human diseases and their relation to milk and the public health, chemical analysis of milk, dairy farm inspection and other subjects will occupy the milk experts during the first day. A. N. Henderson of Seattle, president of the Association, is presiding. The visitors will inspect the government laboratories and will get an insight into the methods by which infected milk can be detected.

COURT TO SAY IF CHURCH IS TOP TRIBUNAL.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—The supreme court of Wisconsin has set today for arguments in the suit for the Kuryer Poliski Publishing Co., against Archbishop Sebastian Messmer for $50,000 damages, growing out of a letter sent out by the archbishop to the Catholics of his diocese. The publishing concern alleges that this letter was intended to injure their business.

When the supreme court gives its decision, it will decide whether an ecclesiastical tribunal takes precedence over a court of law. The court has declined to grant a motion of the prelate's attorneys to dismiss the suit, and ruled that he could be subjected to a discovery statute examination, overruling a decision of Circuit Judge Halsey. Halsey ruled that the archbishop could not be subjected to the discovery statute test desired by the publishing company.

For the Children

A City Girl Working a Pump in the Country.

For the first time in her life the little girl here pictured became acquainted with a sure enough pump in the country. It was a most wonderful thing to Miss Ernestine Lindauer of the Bronx, New York city, who for all her short life of three and a half years had simply turned the spigot at the sink and seen the water flow. At this wonderful country pump, however, she quickly discovered that one must work to secure water. Ernestine thought it a great improvement over the city way. It was great fun to watch the water flow after the pump handle had been moved up and down. The mere turning of a spigot is very little pleasure compared with pumping on the farm. During Ernestine's visit at the New Jersey farm, where she made such wonderful discoveries, she never failed, even when it was raining, to get her drink of cool water by her own exertions.

Museum For Children.

One of the special rooms at the Smithsonian institution at Washington, which was the idea of Dr. Samuel Langley, is devoted entirely to exhibits designed to interest boys and girls. Dr. Langley knew that most museums are not arranged so that their exhibitions, even in natural science, can be seen and admired and studied by young folks. He decided that these things should be presented in a way that would appeal to children. So he superintended a special children's display. In a room used for the purpose all the wall cases which contain large numbers of birds arranged in classifications designed to draw the interest of youngsters are built low, so that everything within them is plainly to be seen. The largest and smallest birds of prey, the eagle and elf owls and curious birds, such as the toucan and umbrella bird, are represented, while bright colored and curious shaped shells, strange and interesting insects, specimens of minerals, fossils and coral formations are also shown.

The Strength of a Spider.

The amazing strength of spiders is shown in a number of well authenticated instances. Thus we have an instance of a half inch spider catching a two inch fish. It was of the ground or wolf family. A scientist came upon it struggling with a fish on the edge of a little pool. Its claws were buried in the fish's tail. It had the tail out of the water, but the head still remained underneath. The spider struggled to pull the fish up the bank, and the fish struggled desperately to draw the spider into the pool. For ten minutes the scientist watched this silent and deadly fight. Then he hurried away for a bottle in which to put the combatants when he captured them. He was gone about half an hour, and on his return the end had come. The fish was dead, and the spider was slowly dragging its victim away.

A New Swimming Doll.

A new and interesting toy is a rubber doll that swims. It is hollow and connected by a slender piece of tubing to a small air bulb. When not inflated the arms and legs are folded close to the body, which to add to the effect is clad in a miniature bathing costume. When in the water the head of the doll protrudes above the surface while the body remains submerged like that of a swimmer. By pressing on the bulb and forcing air into the device the small arms and legs are straightened out, while the release of the air quickly draws them back to their folded position, so that a very lifelike stroke is made. By pressing the bulb intermittently the doll is made to swim quite rapidly through the water.

Turning Leaves.

The leaves are turning everywhere. To red and gold and brown. And soon through the bright autumn air they will be falling down. And all the winter, night and day, in country and in town. Some other leaves will turn, and they sometimes may tumble down. For winter days are dark and cold. But study turns their hours to gold. And leaves must turn and turn and turn. If boys and girls intend to learn. —Youth's Companion.

DAVIS SWITCH.

"Doc" Butler was taken by surprise last Tuesday night by fifty of his friends who reminded him of his birthday. The affair was cleverly planned by his wife, assisted by his sister, Mrs. James Devore. An oyster supper was served and Mr. Butler received a nice chain given by P. J. Crotty in behalf of the Past-time and Jolly Clubs. At a late hour the guests took their departure, wishing "Doc" many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harding and daughter Jessie had a farewell party last Friday night, given by forty of their neighbors and friends who gathered at their home with plenty of ice cream and cake to enjoy one more pleasant evening with them as they soon are to leave this neighborhood and move to South Jacksonville. They will surely be missed here but we are glad to know they are not to move very far from us. South Jacksonville is very fortunate in securing such good neighbors.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy,
Wavy and Beautiful at Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair or dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If your care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it surely is a 25c bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Advertisement.

SAMOA IS WEEK NEARER THE NEWS.

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—With the sailing today of an Oceanic Steamship Co. liner, the U. S. Postoffice Department inaugurates an arrangement by which mail from Samoa and to Samoa can save a full week in transit. The steamers ply between this port and Sydney, via Honolulu and Pago Pago, Samoa, and will carry the mails once every three weeks instead of once every four weeks, as heretofore. The American naval station at Samoa will hereafter be much nearer by mail.

JUVENILE SUIT.

Modish Outfit For the High School Girl.

DURABLE AND SMART.

This simple suit for the schoolgirl may be developed in serge or covert. Its only trimming is a cloth belt at the normal waist line and roomy patch pockets big enough to hold tennis balls and notebooks. The buttons are bone. With heavy boots and gloves and a boyish hat and tie, daughter will be equipped for at least the next few months of school, for durability is the first word in this case.

CHILDREN'S FALL CLOTHES.

How Young Girls Are Prettily Dressed These Fall Days.

Children's wash dresses suitable for school wear are in ginghams, percales, linens, rattens, piques, cordalines and other heavy wash fabrics. Many are in plain colors trimmed with checked, plaid or striped material, while others are of a fancy material trimmed with a plain fabric. Combinations of middie or blouse of plain color with a skirt of plaid, or vice versa, are very pretty.

Colored worsted dresses are also in a great variety of styles in serges, poplins and checked and plaid worsteds. Some are made in sailor effect, while others have the middie blouse or the new college blouse with smocking.

In dressy little frocks combinations of worsted and silk, such as serge with plaid or check silk, are seen. Corded and plain velvets are combined with satin charmeuse or fancy plaid, checked or striped silk.

For older girls three piece suits are popular. They consist of simple little serge or gaberdine dresses with a short, snappy coat in Norfolk, Russian or box effect of the same material. Flat collars are almost universally worn, and sleeves are usually set in at the regular armhole, finished off with a flare cuff or made in flare effect starting from the elbow.

Children's coats are made with a slight flare in the lower section. Sometimes a coat is cut in two sections and joined together at the normal or slightly lower waist line, this joining covered by a belt or sash. A yoke sometimes appears in the back, sometimes in front. Sometimes as many as four pockets appear on a coat, and they are also used on belts. Smocking and hand embroidery trims wee coats, and braids and buttons trim all coats. Krimmer, beaver, otter, seal, mole, chinchilla, squirrel, ermine andoney, as well as velvet in plain colors and novelty stripes and checks, are used for collars, cuffs and other trimmings.

Beauty Sleep.

When you go to bed, if you are looking for beauty sleep, you should fall asleep right away. The beauty sleeper, the one who wakes up looking refreshed, will fall asleep the moment her head touches the pillow. She will fall into a slumber, heavy and dreamless, and she will awaken in the morning of her own accord.

The old fashioned idea of the beauty sleep was the sleep that comes before midnight. Every hour passed in sleep before then made a woman younger, according to the old time idea. After 12 the sleep is heavy and not so good for the nerves, being less invigorating and less strengthening.

It is not so much the amount of sleep as the quality that counts. An Edison can get as much sleep in four hours as most of us get in eight, which means merely that his sleep is so intense, his rest so perfect, that in four hours all the fatigue poisons are driven from his system, while most people's sleep is so fitful or so light that it takes eight or nine hours to do the same work for them.

WHAT CAN YOU DO FOR CATARRH?

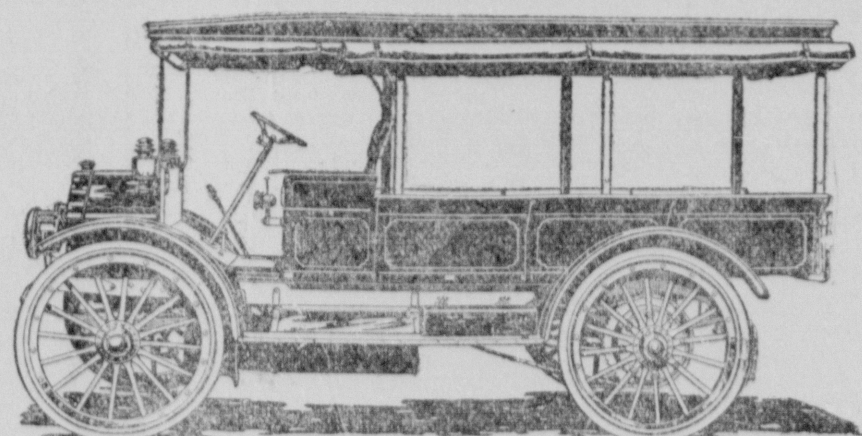

What? Ask yourself the question. How often has the doctor failed, as also ointments, salves, vapours? What you should do is to try S. S. S.

This easy, common-sense method—that costs so little—that is so quickly and vigorously effective—is often the last resort of many Catarrh sufferers. Why, it is hard to say. One of the trained specialists of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta—a physician of standing and national reputation because of his knowledge of blood disorders, made the assertion that if the majority of chronic Catarrhal Victims would buy and faithfully take S. S. S., they could effectually get rid of Catarrh.

S. S. S. goes straight to the seat of trouble, the blood. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to exchange acids and irritating substances for red blood corpuscles that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all Catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in process of purification.

S. S. S. is made from roots and herbs that are food and tonic for the blood. It stimulates—gives the blood power to throw off poisons. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely Catarrh often infests the entire system. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as Eczema, Rash, Lupus, Tetter, Psoriasis, Boils, and all other diseased conditions of the blood. For special advice on any blood disease write The Swift's Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 11, Atlanta, Ga. Avoid substitutes.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

FORECASTS OF ENLARGED RECEIPTS LOWER WHEAT CONFUSION; UNSETTLE REST OF LIST

Assertions That Two-thirds of the Canadian Cabinet Favored the Annulment of Duty on Wheat Also Seemed to Have Much Influence in Lowering Prices.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Assertions that two-thirds of the Canadian cabinet favored the annulment of the duty on wheat seemed to have much influence today in bringing about lower prices here. The market finished nervous, 7-8c to 1c down, with December at 99 1/2 and May at 1.01 1/2. Corn lost 5-8c to 7-8c and 3/4 to 1-4c to 5-8c. Provisions were unchanged to 20c higher.

Forecasters of enlarged receipts in the southwest next week did a good deal to add to the discouragement of the wheat bulls and so also did apparently unfounded rumors that Italy had cancelled the purchase of as much as 10,000,000 bushels. Something of a rally ensued at the last on evidence that Italy today was a buyer. In the corn market bearish predictions regarding the total yield for the season carried prices down grade. Firmness of cables had only a brief influence and were soon offset by the excellent weather. Oats moved on the basis of sympathy with other grain. Trade was small. Provisions rallied in consequence of buying on the part of packers. The market earlier was depressed owing to declines in the price of hogs.

MR. SOARES APPRECIATIVE.

Before leaving Jacksonville for Chicago, vice consul for Portugal stationed in Chicago, wrote a card expressing his appreciation to the citizens of Jacksonville for the various courtesies extended to him while here. This letter was written in Portuguese and was translated into English by E. M. Vasconcellos. A copy of the letter in both languages was sent to the Journal with the suggestion that both be published but the punctuation marks on the imitator machine are not such as to make it possible to reproduce Mr. Soares' letter in the original. The English translation is given herewith.

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 26, 1915.
To the American Citizens Descendants of Portugal:

It is extremely distressful and of all my heart that I come once more and by these means, for thus neither involuntarily make exception of any, in my name and in the name of my government to thank you for the so loyal, sincere and eternally remembered reception that was given me in this beautiful city of Jacksonville.

The innumerable amabilities of which I was recipient, from those born on the "Pearl of the Ocean"—the Island of Madeira—and also from the descendants of the same born here, captivated my heart to such a degree that it is with the most sincere longings that I leave you and bid you farewell, but nobly proud to see that our dear race is, under whatever flag it may adopt, "the always worthy sons of the Lusitania". Farewell then!

Jose de P. Soares,
Vice Consul and Actg. Consul of Portugal in Chicago.

MRS. EMMA MOSHER PASSES AWAY AT WINCHESTER HOME WEDNESDAY

Succumbs to Illness of Seven Weeks—Funeral Friday Afternoon—Oth'r Scott County News Notes.

Mrs. Emma Mosher, widow of the late Samuel Mosher, passed away at her home in Winchester Wednesday morning at 6:30 o'clock, bringing to a peaceful close an illness of seven weeks duration.

Mrs. Mosher's maiden name was Emma Edwards. She was the mother of seven children, but two of whom survive, Mrs. M. L. McDonough and Watt Mosher, both of Winchester. Her loss will be greatly felt in this community, especially by the poor and unfortunate, to whom she was always attentive.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Methodist church, where she has long been a faithful worker. The Rev. C. W. Casely, pastor of the church, will be in charge.

Will Combine Services.

Preaching service Sunday morning and the Sunday school hour are to be combined hereafter, it was recently decided by membership of Winchester Baptist church. The change will take place after Nov. 1, and it is thought that in this way much time will be saved and neither portion of the service injured. The Rev. D. H. Toomey, pastor of the church, has not announced the exact order of exercises, preferring to make the matter a surprise. One week it is planned to hold the Sunday school first and at other times, the sermon will begin the combined service. Thirty o'clock will be the time of beginning, instead of 9:30 and 10:45 as formerly.

Winchester Personal Notes.

Court adjourned Wednesday until next Monday and Judge Jones left Wednesday afternoon for his home in Carrollton.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Prewitt drove in their car to Chapin Wednesday forenoon and met Mrs. C. N. Danners and little son, returning from Quincy.

J. H. Coates, who was recently reported very ill, is considerably improved.

Mrs. Emma Reed left Wednesday for her home in Carthage after a visit with the family of J. F. Claywell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ornsby Dawson, with their daughters, Mrs. Oliver Woodall and Mrs. Roy Coultas, drove to Jacksonville Friday last in Mr. Dawson's car, Mrs. Woodall going to Virginia for a visit with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson and son returned with them Sunday evening.

Just a few more of those CIDER BARRELS left, at $2. OBERMEYER'S.

MORTUARY

May.

A message from St. Louis Wednesday to Mrs. Henry Engel told of the death of Mrs. Hugo May, her sister-in-law, from pneumonia. The late Henry Engel was a brother of the deceased and Mrs. J. Fred Nagle of this city is her only sister. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Coons of St. Louis, and three grand children.

Mrs. May was born in Bavaria, Germany, sixty-seven years ago and came to this country in 1865. She came at once to Jacksonville and this city was her home until one year ago. She was married to Hugo May in 1872 and to them were born five children, four of whom preceded the mother in death.

The body will be brought to Jacksonville today and taken to the residence of Mrs. Nagle on North Main street. The time of the funeral will be announced later.

WITH THE SICK

R. H. Fielden of the vicinity of Chandlerville brought his wife to the city yesterday for treatment at Our Savior's hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Matlock of Alexander was taken Wednesday to Springfield hospital with the expectation of undergoing an operation.

MAN PIONIERED BENEATH TRACTION ENGINE FOR THREE HOURS TIME

Charles Nickle of Fayette Has Leg Crushed—Is a Patient at Our Savior's Hospital.

Charles Nickle, who was crushed beneath a traction engine near Fayette, Ill., Wednesday forenoon was brought to Our Savior's hospital last night where Dr. F. A. Norris operated. Nickle was one of the force of men moving a threshing outfit along a country road. The engine was too heavy for a bridge which gave way under the weight.

Nickle was thrown in such a way that his right leg was caught under the engine and it was three hours before he could be released. Finally the great weight was lifted from him by the means of jack-screws and it was possible to extricate him. The man's right leg was completely crushed and he was otherwise bruised and injured. Consequently his condition is serious.

MURRAYVILLE MEN RECEIVE INJURIES

Everett Pennell and Charles Murphy Victims of Accidents.

Charles Murphy of Murrayville had a narrow escape Tuesday morning, when a team of mules ran away with him. Mr. Murray was standing near his team, when they became frightened, one of the lines catching Mr. Murphy's foot. He was dragged for a distance of 100 yards and finally extricated himself. No bones were broken but he was badly bruised. Dr. J. H. Spencer dressed his injuries.

Everett Pennell Hurt.

Everett Pennell, who resides 1 1/2 miles west of Murrayville, was caught between a wagon bed and a wheel Tuesday afternoon, and had his left leg badly bruised. The ligaments were torn loose about the ankle and it will be some time before he can walk. He was suffering considerable pain yesterday. Dr. J. H. Spencer gave the necessary medical attention.

MAGINN CASE DECISION IN SUPREME COURT.

A decision was handed down in the supreme court yesterday in the Maginn case affirming the decision of the Morgan County Circuit Court. The cases was one testing the validity of an alleged mortgage that was given by an heir on his interest in an undivided tract of land. George W. McDevitt and others in Waverly are the holders of the mortgage and by the decree of the court the mortgage is invalid. Kirby, Wilson and Brookhouse were the attorneys for the plaintiff in the Morgan county court.
